

Access to Mackenzie Building

The Mackenzie Building is at the West end of the Ninewells site (see lower map). Please be guided by the maps below as access restrictions are being placed on roads within the site and the most obvious routes are not available. Parking in the streets around the site is limited, but Ninewells Hospital has a large number of car parks costing £1.70 per day or part thereof. The East Gate gives access to public car parks from which the Mackenzie Building can be accessed on foot. The Mackenzie Building car park is accessed via the West gate. There is no access via James Arnott Drive. Please note that parking in the Mackenzie Building car park is restricted to staff and permitted guests, with access controlled by a lifting barrier. Access from Tom McDonald Road, though easy, is forbidden to cars and may result in an action by the Police if they are on watch. Therefore the road embraced by a pair of stone thistles, marked as giving access to "Accident and Emergency" only should not be followed.
